

BASE BALL.

The Indianapolis Club Wins Again at Omaha—Kansas City Defeats Cleveland—Cincinnati Wins a Game From Pittsburgh.

OMAHA, Neb., May 3.—In the presence of about 1,000 persons Indianapolis administered another drubbing to the home club to-day, defeating them by a score of 13 to 4. Both clubs played loosely and the Omahas could not hit Casey effectively.

They Win a Game at Last.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—Wretched fielding on the part of the Pittsburgs, and lucky batting by the home nine decided to-day's contest. Shalix, pitcher for the Cincinnati, was struck on the arm in the second inning by a pitched ball, and was compelled to retire. Corkhill pitched the rest of the game and Baldwin played right field. Seven thousand people attended. Score:

Cincinnati.....0 0 3 1 0 2 1 0 6-7
Pittsburg.....2 1 0 1 0 0 0 1 1-6

Baker Was Too Much for 'Em.

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—The Louisville won an easy game from the St. Louis Club, to-day, before about 5,000 spectators. The fielding of both clubs was rather loose. The visitors could not hit Baker, while the home nine successfully bunched their hits. Following is the score by innings:

Louisville.....3 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 4-4
St. Louis.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-2

Four Avengers.

MILWAUKEE, May 3.—The Milwaukee again defeated the Toledo, to-day, as shown by the following score:

Milwaukee.....1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 6-6
Toledo.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-2

The "Cowboys" Continue to Win.

KANSAS CITY, May 3.—Score:

Kansas City.....0 0 7 2 0 0 1 4 0-11
Cleveland.....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-6

Base Hits—Kansas City, 11; Cleveland, 14. Errors—Kansas City, 1; Cleveland, 5.

Notes.

The St. Louis Republican says that young Murray, who has been signed by Indianapolis, is a better catcher than Gilligan.

At the Pittsburg meeting of the American Association the balls furnished by Reach were pronounced very inferior and improvement demanded, but no action was taken on the subject.

Whenever the Cincinnati Club drops a game by very giddy ball playing, the Commercial Gazette heads the report thereof: "Hard Luck." But then Taylor is Secretary of the Portopolis nine. The public must at all times take this fact into consideration.

The Metropolitan Club will pay its fine on Wednesday next or else be dropped by the wayside. The impression prevails that the exhibition company will refuse to "pony up." In this event the Washington Nationals step into the American Association and the Mets will be received by the Eastern League with open arms, and then the "cruel war" begins.

A NEW DOG STORY.

A Rabid Newfoundland Dog—A Pet Sheep and Hounds.

SEDAHIA, Mo., May 2.—About a month ago Mr. Mack Huffman, a well-to-do farmer, residing six miles east of this city, was aroused from his slumbers one night by a commotion among his geese. On going to the door he discovered a large Newfoundland dog killing them. Returning to the house he got his shot-gun and loaded it with buckshot, and on going out again found the dog had attacked a pet sheep on the premises, and had been in turn attacked by a pack of hounds belonging to Mr. Huffman. After a severe fight, the hounds succeeded in driving off the intruding dog, which Mr. Huffman shot and killed. Nothing more was thought of the matter until a few days ago, when a valuable beaver belonging to Mr. Huffman was attacked with hydrophobia, and since then two hogs a hound and a calf have been similarly attacked and were killed, and it is hard to tell what amount of damage was done by this rabid canine. The sheep, which was badly torn by the dog's teeth, has apparently recovered. The chief point of anxiety to Mr. Huffman, is from the fact that this sheep possesses traits and history both singular and interesting. Its mother having died when it was born it was taken to the house and raised by hand. In the yard was a dog kennel for a pack of hounds which Mr. Huffman keeps for deer driving and fox hunting. The lamb at once took up its quarters in the kennel, and as the hounds did not object, it was allowed to remain, and soon became much attached to them, while they were zealous to defend it from any danger. As it grew stronger it would follow them in the chase, and for the past two years has been their constant companion in the hunt, leaping fences like a deer, and always keeping up with the foremost hounds. So strong has become the affection of the dogs for their queer companion that they will not follow a trail without it, or permit any stranger animal to molest it. Mr. Huffman prizes it highly, but fears it will fall a victim to hydrophobia.

GENERAL GRANT.

He Passes a Good Night—The Regular Consultation Held.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Doctors Douglas, Shady and Sands met in consultation at the house of General Grant this afternoon. As Dr. Shady and Sands were leaving the house they were questioned and said that Saturday night, with one exception, was the best with the General since the recovery began. The General slept well all night. The cancerous lump at the base of his tongue at present was not progressing. The ulcerated portions of the throat, though not by any means healed, were clear, and the General's physical conditions improved. The glandular swelling that increased on Saturday afternoon had almost disappeared during Sunday, by reason of rest. When pressed to say if the cancerous lump had improved, the doctors declined to say further than above.

Supposed Incendiary Fire.

Special to the Sentinel.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., May 3.—The two-story frame carriage shop of H. and W. N. Bell & Co., situated on the public square, burned last night at about 10:30 o'clock. Two small blacksmith shops adjoining were also destroyed. Bell & Co. loss $1,500; no insurance. Frank Dovy, painter, loss between $400 and $500 on paints and materials; no insurance. One fine carriage belonging to Lee Fort and one of two other vehicles were lost in the fire. L. H. Johnson, blacksmith, loss $800 on finished work and materials; insured for $500. The fire was evidently incendiary, as an attempt was made two weeks ago to fire the same building, but was discovered in time to extinguish the flames. Much labor and skill was required in keeping the fire within bounds. At one time it seemed as though the whole square must perish.

THE MILITARY DRILLS.

Mobile Had a Gala Day on Sunday—Numerous Competing Companies, With Bands, Arrive.

MOBILE, Ala., May 3.—This was a gala day in Mobile, the arrival of the military occupying the time from daylight until dark. Five companies were already on the ground. Company C of the Third Iowa Regiment, and the Taylorville (Illinois) Guards came at 5 a. m. Early in the afternoon the Houston Light Guards, of Texas; Battery B, Washington Artillery, and Battery B, Louisiana, accompanied by many civilians. At 2 o'clock the Louisville and Nashville Railroad brought in the Savannah Cadets, the Montgomery (Alabama) Grays, the Montgomery True Blues, and the Richmond Rifles, of Columbia, S. C. At 3 o'clock a decorated train from Danbury, Ia., came in, bringing the Commanding General, C. S. Bentley, the J. G. Jewell (Wisconsin) Guards, the Chicago Zouaves, Company D, Second Illinois Regiment, and several bands, including the Iowa State University Band, the Danbury Drum Corps, the First Iowa Regiment Band, and the Sixth Iowa Regiment Band, being 110 pieces. The local military and populace gave the last corps a rousing reception. The parade through the streets was very fine. The troops proceeded at once to Camp Drum and spent the evening hours in setting into quarters. They were welcomed by crowds of citizens and made thoroughly welcome. Tomorrow the competing companies will draw for places, and the contests will begin on Tuesday with the maiden infantry in competition. Wednesday there will be Zouave and Artillery competitions, and on Thursday the first prize infantry in competition, and Zouave contest. On Friday the Zouave and first prize infantry competitions will be concluded, and on Saturday the individual contest will take place.

STEAKING MINERS.

The Hocking Valley Syndicate Under-selling Other Mines.

CLEVELAND, May 3.—The threatened strike among the coal miners of the Tuscarawas and Cannollon Valley, which, it is feared, will involve all the miners in the district, nearly 6,000 in number, before a settlement is reached, was inaugurated Saturday evening. A special from Canton says that 200 men in the Cannollon district have quit work. The Tuscarawas and Cannollon quit work. The rate of 55 cents per ton, established in the Hocking Valley, enables Hocking operators to undersell them in Cleveland and other like points.

Other operators will make similar reductions. Mr. Roberts, President of the Miners' Association, has advised an acceptance of the reduction, but the men do not seem inclined to do so.

Compromises Made With the Illinois Miners.

St. Louis, May 3.—The condition of affairs among the coal miners at Collinsville, Belleville and other places in Madison and St. Clair Counties, Illinois, is still unsettled, but it is thought most of the mines will be operated to-morrow, and that the threatened strike of the men will come to naught. Information from Streator and Braidwood is to the effect compromises have been made between the miners and mine owners at these places and that the men will resume work to-morrow.

Doings at Seymour and Vicinity.

Special to the Sentinel.

SEYMOUR, Ind., May 3.—The Jackson Circuit Court adjourned last evening after transacting a vast amount of business. Three persons were sentenced to the State Prison and eight divorces granted. Judge Collins is a rasher for business.

Over 42,000 dozen of eggs were shipped from here to eastern markets last month. The city election on Tuesday next is growing warm. The only issue before the people is whether the manner in which the City Council voted $2,000 to an enterprise some time ago was right. There is a diversity of opinion even among the "knowing ones." Candidates both for and against the appropriation are out and it is the wish that the best man may win.

A. M. Fitch & Co. manufactured and shipped 19,122 pounds of tallow last month. Mr. Charles Hoffman, late of Pomeroy, O., will open an extensive dry goods store in this city to-morrow.

The O. and M. Road will put a new time card into effect on Sunday next.

John Coy, an employee at the hnb and spoke factory, and a poor man, had his left hand badly torn to pieces with a buzz saw yesterday.

A dwelling-house at Ewing, and owned by Eliza Sewell, was discovered to be on fire at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, and but for timely discovery would have burned to the ground and the family in it. Incendiary.

Farmers were very busy last week planting "corn" and "wheat" and "potatoes." It is feared the heavy rains on Friday and the cool days and nights may seriously injure the seed.

A Drunken Pilot.

Special to the Sentinel.

MADISON, Ind., May 3.—Quite a commotion was created on the Mail Line steamer Fleetwood, half an hour after leaving Cincinnati last evening. Captain Charles Dufour discovered Henry Brashear, the pilot, on watch intoxicated, and ordered him to leave, which he refused, when a desperate hand to hand fight ensued in the pilot house, which, but for timely interference, would have ended fatally. The boat landed at Riverside and put the pilot off. The steamer J. C. Kerr took him aboard to Rising Sun, where he got on the City of Madison for Cincinnati. His home is in this city. Pilot Jeff Thomas, of the City of Vevay, took Brashear's place on the Fleetwood.

Jailer Attacked by Prisoners.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 3.—A News Colorado City special says: "This evening Jailer Robertson, while feeding the prisoners, was attacked by two prisoners named Middleton and Lloyd, who took a pistol from Robertson, and were beating him to death when his wife came to the rescue, but her pistol refused to fire. Deputy Sheriff Parks arrived at this juncture, and sent a ball through Middleton's brain. Lloyd jumped from a window, but was recaptured."

Old and New Association Scale of Prices.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—The Commercial-Gazette says: "The United Nailers of America, the new organization, composed exclusively of nail cutters, yesterday sent forth from their headquarters in Bellaire, O., a scale of wages to go into effect June 1. The scale is identical with that of the Amalgamated Association, except that steel and iron nails are placed on the same basis. The Amalgamated Association demand 20 per cent additional for steel nails, and the action of the Nallers in reducing the scale is regarded as a declaration of war on the old association."

The British Corvette Garnet.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The British corvette Garnet, after lying at anchor all night, opposite quarantine, was visited by the health officer at sunrise to-day, and immediately afterwards steamed to a new anchorage opposite Tompkinsville. At 9 o'clock an American flag was hoisted to the main mast and saluted with twenty-one guns. The Union Jack flew all day at the fore and the first signal at the mizen-mast. Captain Rand went ashore early in the day. The British Consul General did not pay a visit to the vessel, but a representative from General Hancock and several officers of the Minnesota were among the visitors. The future movements of the Garnet are uncertain.

This city is to be now the permanent capital of the State. No demonstration was made, but the banks of the river were lined with people to witness the arrival of the boats.

The Plymouth Epidemic.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 3.—While there has been quite a number of new cases of fever at Plymouth within the last few days, they are of a less virulent type than those at the first stage of the epidemic. As a rule the patients show signs of improvement. Since the last report there has been four deaths. There were six funerals this afternoon.

The Cleveland Souquet.

Fulton (Mo.) Special, April 30. Somewhat of a hurry was caused here yesterday among our townspeople, and especially among the young ladies of the Synodical Female College, when it was announced that President Grover Cleveland had forwarded a handsome bouquet to be presented to the best reader among the young ladies of the institution. Such attention in the midst of rushing business and while surrounded by howling office-seekers is abundant proof that a bachelor President still has a kind and tender feeling for the gentler sex, and especially for young ladies in a boarding-school. It was also taken as proof that he has not entirely forgotten the State, but that his course has been such as to promote the interest of the whole country by keeping her office seekers at home and encouraging the acquisition of higher young ladies. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a number of visitors and friends of the college assembled in the chapel in the presence of the school to hear the young ladies read. President Charles announced that thirteen of the young ladies had consented to enter the contest. Dr. T. R. H. Smith, Rev. Wm. H. Marquess, Hon. John A. Hockaday, S. T. Harrison and Elder F. W. Allen were selected as judges. The young ladies made their own selections and all read well. The committee, after the first reading was concluded, selected "The Union," and an extract from Webster's reply to Haynes for each of the girls to read. When this was concluded the committee decided in favor of Miss Persia Nesbit, whose selection had been "Whistling in Heaven." The flowers arrived from Washington just as the reading was concluded, and were presented by General Hockaday in his own handsome way to the lucky young lady. He announced an exchange of pictures with the President, and also an exchange of hearts if there were no previous alliance on the part of Miss Nesbit. The recipient is a perfect blonde of seventeen summers, and one of the prettiest young ladies in the college. Mr. T. A. Russell, a staunch friend of the college, closed the exercises by a very facetious paraphrasing of the chiefman Logan's speech.

True Even Unto Death.

(St. Paul Globe.)

That was a touching story told by Mr. Gladstone when announcing the death of the Princess Alice in Parliament. She had been cautioned by the physician not to inhale the breath of her little boy, who was ill with diphtheria. The little fellow was tossing in his bed in the delirium of fever. The Princess stood by the side of her child and laid her hand upon his brow and began to caress him. The touch cooled the fevered brain and brought the wandering soul back from its wild delirium to nestle for a moment in the lap of a mother's love. Then throwing her arms around her neck he whispered, "Mamma, kiss me." The instinct of a mother's love was stronger than science, and she pressed her lips to those of her child. And yet there was a woman in all the world but would not kiss her own child, a mother's heart if she had not kissed her own child. And so it will be to the end of time. The mother will kiss her child, the wife her husband and the lover his sweetheart, though death in a thousand forms lay concealed beneath the vermilion coloring of the parting lips.

She Denied Faith.

(Baltimore American.)

A young lady, a Sunday-school teacher in a church pretty near the corner of Gilmor street and Lafayette avenue, was on Sunday defining faith to her class of young Americans, ages from six to ten years. She set out her task in a practical way. "Faith is 'anything,'" she said, "is to believe that something existed which could not be seen. Suppose," she said, "your papa should tell you he had put $10 in the bank for you, and that you might draw it from the bank when you were older. You would not see the money put in, but you know it is there because you believe what your papa tells you, and when you grow up and want the money, you draw yourself up, with your pious on and your high hat, and your cue, and you—"

At this juncture the teacher was startled by one of the boys, who cried out: "What are you giving us? Do you think I'm a dunder?"

The young lady says that she felt prostrated, and that it will be some time before she stirs up the question of faith again.
